

Center for Careers in Teaching

CSUF's undergraduate academic advisement center to support future educators

Did you know you don't need to major in Education to become a teacher?

The future teacher faces a complex set of intersecting requirements including general education, major coursework, subject matter preparation, and credential program prerequisites. At the Center for Careers in Teaching (CCT), our mission is to advise students and prepare them for our credential program in the most efficient and effective manner.

TITAN BITES

WHAT IS IT?
Titan Bites was created in response to increasing meal insecurity among CSUF students. It is a way to provide convenient and immediate notifications of available food on campus after a catered event. This program will send push notifications to your mobile device and/or email, informing you when and where to get the available food on campus.

HAVE QUESTIONS?
For questions about food resources contact the Dean of Students Office at deanofstudents@fullerton.edu or (657) 278-3211
