The TSU is a little less packed and parking is much easier to find, but we’re still here! The advisers at the Center for Careers in Teaching have been providing future teachers with important information about course selection and ways to get involved with future teacher resources and clubs.

Even though we’ve been busy, our Center is still here for you! Need to study for a summer school class, CBEST, or CSET exam? Come enjoy our space, CBEST/CSET study tools, complimentary coffee, and printing. Maybe you’d like to discuss your fall 2017 class schedule? Our advisers would love to help you with that! Just call our front desk at 657.278.7130 or visit us in EC-379 to set up your appointment.

On Friday, July 28, Cal State Fullerton will co-host the third annual Better Together: California Teachers Summit, a unique day of learning that will bring teachers and teacher candidates together across the state. The Summit will feature TED-style EdTalks presented by local teachers, Edcamp discussions on teacher-selected topics, and opportunities for networking and sharing ideas and resources with fellow participants.

This is a great opportunity for aspiring teachers to build their networks and hear directly from teachers about their experiences in the classroom. If you are interested in the teaching profession, we encourage you to take advantage of this unique opportunity to enhance your learning.

Register for FREE today at www.cateacherssummit.com, and spread the word to your classmates and friends. Don’t forget to follow the Summit on Facebook and Twitter for updates, and join the conversation using the hashtag #CATeachersSummit.
