

FREE TRAINING

Teaching Writing Well: A Seminar for Secondary Teachers

We are pleased to offer a writing series designed for secondary education teachers. If you are searching for professional development to enhance your expertise and marketability, join us for all 3 sessions and earn a Certificate of Professional Development in Secondary Writing Instruction.

Register today!
Limited to 25 teachers.

Why Writing Matters

October 12, 2024

Establishing the importance of writing in secondary schools and how vital writing skills are for success in college and career.

Approaches and Strategies for Teaching Writing

November 16, 2024

This session will discuss research-based approaches and proven strategies for teaching writing skills to secondary students.

Providing Helpful Feedback to Student Writers

December 14, 2024

This session will focus on time saving approaches to providing students with helpful feedback on their writing, including the ethical use of AI as a tool for providing formative feedback to student writers.

Saturdays, 9:00 am - 11:00 am

CSUF campus, CP 120

Free Session and Free Parking

Questions?

Dr. Chris Street

cstreet@fullerton.edu