

Warne Family Charitable Foundation Scholarship in Special Education

Scholarship Award: $4,000

Established by: Generous funding from the Warne Family Charitable Foundation is available to CSUF students who are pursuing a degree, credential or authorization in Special Education.

Open to: This scholarship is open to students who have been newly admitted or are continuing in a credential or graduate degree program within the College of Education.

Criteria: To be eligible for participation, students must meet the following criteria:

- Be admitted and/or enrolled as a current CSUF student, pursuing a master's degree, credential or authorization in Special Education.
- Be a student in good academic standing with the University.
- Demonstrate significant financial need (students must verify a family income of less than $120,000).
- Demonstrate academic promise with a minimum undergraduate cumulative collegiate GPA of 2.75.
- Open to students from any state or country.
- Preference will be given to:
 - Student veterans
 - Family members of veterans
 - Family members of first responders

Application procedure: In order to be eligible for consideration, students must submit a full application packet, including:

- Completed application
- Academic transcripts
- Personal statement
- One letter of recommendation

Application deadline: September 30, 2022